Rent the Runway, Inc. Announces Fourth Quarter and Full Year 2024 Results

Cash and Cash Equivalents Declined $6.6 million in Fiscal Year 2024 Versus a Decline of $70.5 million in Fiscal Year 2023, Resulting in Record Low Cash Consumption in Fiscal Year 2024.

Announces Largest Inventory Acquisition in Company History; Rollout Planned in FY 2025

Expects a Return to Subscriber Growth in FY 2025

New York (April 15, 2025) - Rent the Runway, Inc. ("Rent the Runway" or "RTR") (NASDAQ: RENT), the company transforming the way women get dressed by pioneering the world's first Closet in the Cloud, today reported financial results for the fiscal quarter and fiscal year 2024 ended January 31, 2025.

RTR has proven its ability to operate a nearly break-even business. Notably, we've significantly improved our cash position from a decline of $70.5 million in fiscal year 2023 to a decline of only $6.6 million at the end of fiscal year 2024, resulting in record low cash consumption. This improvement is the direct result of a multi-year corporate strategy transformation, which includes a rejuvenated and customer-obsessed team, a commitment to improving customer loyalty and retention, and instilling greater cost discipline.

At fiscal year 2024 end, we believe that RTR is operating from a stronger foundation as we shift our focus to the future with a disciplined growth strategy.

"After several years of increased financial discipline, we believe that RTR is now operating on steadier financial footing. We've significantly reduced our cash burn, which is a key proof point that we can operate a more sustainable business," said Jennifer Hyman, Co-Founder, President, and CEO of Rent the Runway. "As we look ahead, our priority is to grow new customers and strengthen customer loyalty by reinvesting in our inventory. We are entering 2025 with strong conviction that we will see business momentum as we continue to execute on our multi-year transformation plan."

Recent Business Highlights

- Returned to our customer-obsessed roots. Refocused our team on the customer. We launched our "We Heard You" customer campaign to showcase that we have listened to our customer and are laser-focused on what matters to her most, including by investing more in the inventory she desires.
- Announced the largest inventory acquisition in company history. Expecting to approximately double the new inventory coming onto the platform in fiscal year 2025. This is anticipated to include a 3-4x increase in units on average from key brands most desired by customers.

- Expanded our cost-efficient models to acquire inventory, including the Share by RTR revenue share program and Exclusive Designs collections. Total units from the Share by RTR program are expected to increase to approximately 62% of total units in fiscal year 2025, a 2.5x increase versus fiscal year 2024. We believe that this expansion highlights RTR's ability to serve as a marketing channel for brands.
- Rapidly improving the customer experience through a steady drumbeat of product innovations. In response to direct customer feedback and designed to improve retention, we have launched and are expecting to launch:
 - 60-day customer promise, giving new members risk-free renting for their first two months, meaning we will replace any item that does not fit or feel right for free.
 - Back-in-stock notifications for customer-hearted items, which sends customers a notification when a favorite item becomes available. We plan to further expand in-stock notifications for specific styles and sizes in the near future, which is our #1 most requested new feature.
 - Enhancements to our personalized new customer onboarding experience, where members of our customer service team call new members personally to review the details of how RTR works, and answer any questions.
 - Stylist in product, which connects customers to a stylist over text or Zoom to help guide her selection of styles.

"We drove significantly reduced cash burn and increased revenue as the company focused on cost discipline in Fiscal Year 2024," said Sid Thacker, Chief Financial Officer, Rent the Runway. "We continue to have conviction that through capital-light avenues to acquire new inventory, we can drive customer loyalty in a cost-efficient manner. We believe the bold steps and investments we are making in fiscal year 2025 will ignite subscriber growth this year and beyond."

Key Business and Financial Metrics

Active Subscribers is defined as the number of subscribers with an active membership as of the last day of any given period and excludes paused subscribers.

Average Active Subscribers is defined as the mean of the beginning of quarter and end of quarter Active Subscribers for a quarterly period; and for other periods, represents the mean of the Average Active Subscribers of every quarter within that period.

Gross Profit is defined as total revenue less costs related to activities to fulfill customer orders and rental product acquisition costs, presented as fulfillment and rental product depreciation and revenue share, respectively, on the consolidated statement of operations. We depreciate owned apparel assets over three years and owned accessory assets over two years, net of 20% and 30% salvage values, respectively, and recognize the depreciation on a straight-line basis and remaining cost of items when sold or retired on our consolidated statement of operations. Rental product depreciation expense is time-based and reflects all rental product items we own. We use Gross Profit and Gross Profit as a percentage of revenue, or Gross Margin, to measure the continued efficiency of our business after the cost of our products and fulfillment costs are included.

Non-GAAP Financial Measures

This press release and the accompanying tables contain the non-GAAP financial measures of Adjusted EBITDA, Adjusted EBITDA margin, free cash flow, and free cash flow margin. In addition to our results determined in accordance with GAAP, we believe that Adjusted EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA margin are useful in evaluating our performance and free cash flow and free cash flow margin are useful in evaluating our performance and liquidity. Adjusted EBITDA is a key performance measure used by management to assess our operating performance and the operating leverage of our business prior to capital expenditures. These non-GAAP financial metrics are not meant to be considered as indicators of our financial performance in isolation from or as a substitute for our financial information prepared in accordance with GAAP and should be read only in conjunction with financial information presented on a GAAP basis. There are limitations to the use of the non-GAAP financial metrics presented in this press release. For example, our non-GAAP financial metrics may not be comparable to similarly titled measures of other companies. Other companies, including companies in our industry, may calculate non-GAAP financial metrics differently than we do, limiting the usefulness of those measures for comparative purposes.

We define Adjusted EBITDA as net loss, adjusted to exclude interest expense, rental product depreciation, other depreciation and amortization, share-based compensation expense, write-off of liquidated assets, non-recurring adjustments, non-ordinary course legal fees, restructuring charges, income tax (benefit) expense, other income and expense, and other gains / losses. Adjusted EBITDA margin is defined as Adjusted EBITDA calculated as a percentage of total revenue, net for a period.

We define free cash flow as net cash used in operating activities and net cash used in investing activities on a combined basis. Free cash flow margin is defined as free cash flow as a percentage of revenue.

The reconciliation of presented non-GAAP financial metrics to the most directly comparable GAAP financial measure is presented below. We encourage reviewing the reconciliation in conjunction with the presentation of the non-GAAP financial metrics for each of the periods presented. In future periods, we may exclude similar items, may incur income and expenses similar to these excluded items, and may include other expenses, costs and non-recurring items. Reconciliation of free cash flow and Adjusted EBITDA expectations for fiscal year 2025 and Q1 2025, respectively, to the closest corresponding GAAP measure is not available without unreasonable efforts on a forward-looking basis due to the high variability, complexity, and low visibility with respect to the charges excluded from these non-GAAP measures, in particular, share-based compensation expense, and non-recurring expenses, which can have unpredictable fluctuations based on unforeseen activity that is out of our control and/or cannot reasonably be predicted.
